American Legion to honor past commander

The American Legion Hardin-Browning Post 109 will be honoring their past commander the late Ray Hammond on Sunday, October 28.

A meal will be served after the dedication in the hall.

The Post members will be having a dedication of a black granite bench with Hammond's photo on it that will be placed in front of the hall. Hammond was post commander from 1998 until 2011. He past away last year after a battle with cancer.

Hammond took the job when the attendance of the organization was low. He and the other members worked very hard to increase the number of veterans in the organization. Their hard work paid off. Whenever a veteran passed away the members of Post 109 were there to give that veteran a full military funeral.

All of his hard work and the others proved to be outstanding as so many other counties called to have our veterans come and give a full military funeral for their fallen veterans.

"Hammond gave a 110 percent at any thing he did and he gave that and more of his time and love for Post 109 and its veterans," said Outlook Editor Debbie Dennie. "He loved every minute of it."

Post 109 now will dedicate and honor him with this bench for all of his hard work and dedication he gave to the American Legion Hardin-Browning Post 109.

Court supports Rachel's Challenge; receives check for blacktop

By Roger McKinney, reporter

Pendleton County Champions Coalition's Kelly Staten addressed the fiscal court concerning a program called Rachel's Challenge. The purpose of Rachel's Challenge is to combat bullying by creating a culture of kindness and compassion within the community of junior high and high school students. Rachel Scott was the first student killed in the Columbine High School Massacre of April 20, 1999. Rachel believed that showing kindness to others could cause a chain reaction of that virtue. Kelly Staten explained that the Champions Coalition had received a grant to fund a Rachel's Challenge Program within the Pendleton County School System, but unfortunately, the grant was not enough to finance the complete project. The Pendleton County Education Foundation had contributed to the program and Ms. Staten asked the court to also help. Then, a motion was approved to donate $1,000 to Rachel's Challenge. Still, the project required additional funding and Champions Coalition must request aid from other organizations. Tom McKee presented a $230,000 check to the fiscal court with the understanding that the funds would be used for road resurfacing. In addition, Representative McKee talked about a constitutional amendment that will appear on the November 6 ballot and will be voted upon by the citizens of our commonwealth. The amendment affirms the right of Kentuckians to hunt and fish in our state. Representative McKee said that Kentucky would be the fourteenth state to adopt such an amendment.

Ladycats Capture Historical 38th District Championship

It's been over 10 seasons in the making. In 2003, PCHS saw a new team added to their athletic department. Ten seasons later, coach Laura Buck's Ladycat Volleyball team won the first 38th District Title in program history with 3-1 victories over Harrison County (first round) and Deming (championship game).

When asked how it felt to bring home the first district title, coach Buck summed it up in a single word,

"Wonderful!"

She continued, "We as a team are so proud to be able to bring this title home to our school. The girls have worked hard all year and had their minds set on winning Districts since the beginning of the season. All their hard work has accomplished the goal they set for themselves."

The team had a core of players who have performed outstanding throughout the 20-9 season. Led by seniors Mackenzie Horn, Sarah Schlueter, Brianna Crouch and Jen Owen, the cast included juniors Izzy Redell, Destiny Shackelford and Cytha Buck, and freshman Bailey Boden.

While a 20-9 season is outstanding, it is even more impressive when you realize that two years ago the volleyball team had 20 losses

Kentucky changes how they assess schools

After 10 years of testing under the CATS system, parents, teachers and the public will have to learn how to interpret the Kentucky Performance Rating for Educational Progress, which was developed from the General Assembly's adoption of Senate Bill 1 in 2009. Previously, students were tested for basic knowledge in math and reading. The new assessment raises the bar to compete nationally and globally. K-Prep ranks students for college and career readiness.

The scoring method changes with the new K-Prep assessment. Schools and the districts will receive a score from a scale of 0 to 100. The score will be calculated from test scores, graduation rates and rankings for college and career readiness. Based on the results, schools and districts will be ranked as "distinguished," "proficient" or "needs improvement."

While learning this new system, the public will also have to accept that the assessment results released in October will not be comparable to scores from previous years.

"The state is planting a new measuring stick on a new playing field. It's tougher, and the results are going to be low in the beginning," warns Anthony Strong, superintendent of Pendleton County schools.

In a recent article for the Kentucky Teacher newsletter, Education Commissioner Terry Holaday said, "Our reasons for the low scores are legitimate, and we should share and explain those to our communities."

We want all of our stakeholders to understand our new testing and accountability system," commented Strong. This is why Pendleton County schools will hold a community meeting from 6:15 -7 p.m. on Thursday, October 18 in the Pendleton County High School auditorium to explain the new testing and accountability system, Unbridled Learning the Accountability Model. The district is focused and committed to providing a high quality educational experience for all students. The district is excited about the new state standards and is working diligently to make sure Pendleton County students are college/career ready. The schools appreciate the support of the community and want to make sure all stakeholders have the opportunity to hear firsthand about the new testing system. They hope you will join them.

detectors to make sure they are working."

The best way to practice fire safety is to make sure a fire doesn't break out in the first place.

Swope says to be aware of potential hazards in your home. "Look around your house for potential problems. For instance, are your electrical appliances in good condition? Are your outlets overloaded with too many items plugged in? Do you use too many extension cords? These are all things that can be fixed easily."

For additional information on fire safety and fire prevention week, visit NFPA's website at <http://www.nfpa.org>.

In addition to Kentucky's upcoming Fire Prevention Week, Division of Forestry officials remind citizens that Fall Fire Hazard Season is in effect from Oct. 1 through Dec. 15. During this time, outdoor burning is illegal between the hours of 6 a.m. and 6 p.m. in or within 150 feet of any woodland or brushland.

"The safety of families living in or adjacent to natural areas is especially important during fire seasons, said Leah MacSwords, director of the Division of Forestry. "The best way to protect lives and property is to prevent wildfires from getting started in the first place. Homeowners who live in or near forested areas should prune and remove flammable plant and debris. Reducing the amount of fuel from shrubs, dead plant material and firewood will help create a defensible space around your home."

Last night Benjamin and Joseph picked over a five gallon bucket of tomatoes. I now have enough to make a batch of homemade pizza sauce today. The tomato plants are still loaded with green tomatoes. Hot and green peppers are still doing great. I am surprised we didn't get a killing frost yet but imagine it is not too far off. I can't believe how many leaves have fallen from the trees this past week. Such beautiful colors of leaves. Autumn is a pretty season when the leaves start changing to yellow, red, and orange. These are scenes only our Master Artist could create. The sunsets are also a beauty to see in the evening.

The cold air makes us think of winter. The boys went out one chilly morning and said "Mom, we smell snow." Then the talk turned to sledding, homemade ice cream, snowmen, and all the excitement during the winter months. I remember when the children were younger winter seemed to go on forever. Now that they are older they seem to fly by too fast. Nice to have the winter months to get caught up with sewing. It also seems things seem to move at a slower pace than the summer months. I have a new pants cut out for Kevin and hope to get it sewed before Saturday. Our plans are, Lord willing, to attend the wedding of Menno and Maggie in Columbia City, Indiana. Kevin is getting tall so fast that he is in need of new pants. It will be a full weekend with going to the wedding on Saturday and then church services on Sunday. Last Sunday we spent the day at Emma and Jacob's. Jacob's parents spent Saturday evening and overnight at Jacob's house. The rest of Jacob's family came from Berne, Indiana on Sunday morning. Jacob's parents are an uncle and aunt to my husband Joe so we joined them for the noon meal. They had a delicious a meal consisting of barbecued chicken, hot wings, mashed potatoes and gravy, dressing, mixed vegetables and corn, overnight salad, sliced tomatoes, green and hot peppers, carrots and celery sticks and ranch dip, cheese, bread, butter and jam. Dessert was pecan and pumpkin pie, muskmelon, watermelon and grapes, finger jello, and punch and coffee. Jacob and Emma presented Jacob's dad with a Dairy Queen ice cream cake for his 60th birthday Sunday.

The afternoon was spent playing games.

Benjamin, Joseph, Lovina, and Kevin biked the four miles to Jacob's. The boys biked back in the evening. Lovina couldn't as the pedal on her bike broke off. I was surprised that Lovina and Kevin did that well to go that far. This was the first time that they biked to Jacob's and they were so glad to be able to go. Verena and Loretta took the single buggy and our horse Diamond. We strapped Loretta's wheelchair to the back of the buggy. Joe and I took our double-buggy and Ginger. It was good to have the big buggy because we had to bring Lovina's bike home. Our buggy used to be packed with all eight children and a lot of times we picked up my sisters Verena and Susan. Now as they all get older some can drive in the other buggy, bike, or take the pony and wagon. Our buggy is hardly ever full anymore. And of course daughters Elizabeth and Susan prefer to drive with their special friends than with their parents.

We waited to do laundry until Tuesday as we had my friend Amy's two little ones on Monday. Matthew wanted to go see the pony again so Susan took him to the barn to see the animals. Emily stands by the screen door and watches the horses in the field. Our border collie dog, Buddy, seems to have bonded with her as well. He comes up to the door and stares at her through the glass. He gets all excited when he does that. Matthew soon learned to hold his cookie high above his head when Buddy is around. Buddy loves to snatch cookies out of son Kevin's hand when he plays outside. I think he must like homemade cookies.

This is a delicious, easy casserole that we enjoyed this week!

INGREDIENTS:

- 2 pounds tater tots
- 1 pint sour cream
- 2 cans cream of chicken
- 1 and 1/2 soup cans of milk
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 2 pounds of hamburger fried with the onion
- 1 pound Velveeta cheese
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 2 cups of corn flakes
- 1/2 cup of melted margarine

DIRECTIONS:

OPINION

SENATOR
KATIE STINE

As a result of the recent surge in heroin abuse, I invited Spike Jones, chief of Covington Police Department, to testify before the interim Judiciary Committee about what Northern Kentucky law enforcement is seeing. He painted a sobering picture of the families and communities torn apart by this cheap "new" old drug that is sweeping in from Mexico via Cincinnati. Heroin deaths have more than doubled statewide in the last two years. At $25 a half-gram, heroin is inexpensive and increasingly accessible. As Kentucky is cracking down on the illegal use of prescription drugs, heroin seems to be a drug of choice leading to new addicts, higher crime, copper theft, and even prostitution. Heroin is highly addictive in nature and while there has been plenty of publicity and public education about the dangers of oxycodone abuse, methamphetamine, and other similar drugs, heroin education and treatment has lagged behind. I also invited the executive director of the Office of Drug Policy to attend our committee meeting and he talked to us about the need for more resources and coordinated law enforcement support. There are only two treatment centers in Northern Kentucky. I am very concerned about this issue and have directed my staff to research any needed legislative changes as well as treatment funding options that we can use to fight this scourge in our commonwealth.

In the Natural Resources and Environment Committee, we heard from consultants from Christiansen Associates Energy Consulting on the impact of increasing utility rates on the aluminum smelting industry and other industries in the commonwealth. Western Kentucky is home to the aluminum industry and they are hurting right now due to onerous federal regulations and global competitors that are subsidized by their governments. While the full report will not be available until mid-November, the initial recommendations were disheartening. Members of the committee are not willing to give up on Kentucky's aluminum industry which provides much needed jobs and will continue to look for a solution to the problem. I continue to be disappointed by the many ways bureaucrats in the federal government make it increasingly difficult for employers to create and maintain jobs.

It continues to be an honor to represent you in Frankfort. If you have any questions or comments, please feel free to call me toll-free at 1-800-372-7181.

The Pendleton County Wildcats varsity soccer team was defeated by the Harrison County Thoroughbreds in the 38th District Boys Soccer Championship by a score of 2-1. Both teams will advance to regional play which starts tonight in Harrison County.

Wildcats lose Districts, play Scott in Regionals

By: Sam McClanahan, Reporter
So close. It's cruel how something you work hard for over a long period of time can be lost within a matter of seconds. Just like that.

So was the case last Thursday night in the final seconds of the 38th District championship, yet another classic being played between Pendleton County and border rival Harrison County. Both teams competing at the highest level, with neither deserving to lose. But someone had to lose. Then it happened. With the score knotted at a goal apiece, and the clock winding down, Harrison County converted a game-winning shot from well beyond 40 yards out; the ball ricocheting off the crossbar and going into the net.

"Both teams played incredibly well," said Wildcats head coach

Lisa Feltner. "We had chances to win during the game, it's a tough loss but I'm proud of the way we played."

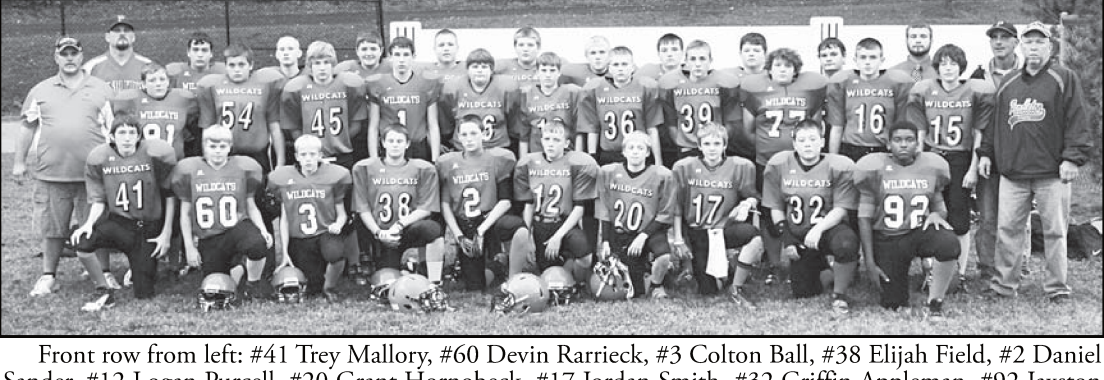

Aven Harper takes a shot on goal against the 'Bred defense. Aven had four goals in the game versus St. Patrick and scored the Cats' lone goal versus Harrison County to knot the game at one apiece.

The 'Cats and 'Breds each attempted 23 shot attempts during the game. Harrison County led 1-0 at halftime before the 'Cats evened things up with a goal from senior Aven Harper. Goalkeeper CJ Osbourne racked up 21 saves in the loss.

In the opening round contest played last Tuesday, the Wildcats crushed St. Pat 10-0. Aven Harper put on the performance of his amazing career, scoring six goals, including two in the first seven minutes; as the 'Cats took a 7-0 led at halftime and never looked back. Travis Brinkman added two goals and four assists.

Tonight, the Wildcats square off against Scott High at 5:30 in quarterfinal play of the 10th Region Tournament held at Harrison County. The 'Cats lost to the Eagles 6-4 on Sept. 8th. If the 'Cats are victorious, they will move on to face Montgomery County on Thursday evening.

With a winning record and some key district wins, the Sharp Wildcat Football Team recorded the first playoff appearance in program history.

"We have had a successful season this year. We posted a winning record and made the schools first playoff appearance in history. Our goal at the beginning of the year was to develop players and implement the varsity system. We have achieved those goals," coach Walt Hornbeck commented. "The team has also performed academically in the classroom and with their behavior. We have had mandatory study hall after school throughout the season and it has payed off. They should be complimented for all their hard work on the field and in the classroom."

"The team was given great support this year from the varsity program. The varsity staff came to the Tichenor game and gave valuable support to the middle school coaching staff. A number of varsity players also came to the game to support their future teammates."

The success of the high-scoring team bodes well for upcoming seasons for the Wildcat Varsity team.

Coach Terry Brown concurred in his observation of the success of the middle school team.

"I am looking forward to having the 8th grade players move up to work with the varsity program for the remainder of the year. Those boys had a tremendous year making the playoffs for the 1st time in school history. I feel that this will be a good transition period for them to see how we do things at this level and become familiar with our coaching staff. I am hoping this will help us to keep all 18 players involved and allow them to start in the weight room in December with us working towards next year."

While they lost in their first playoff appearance in program history 54-22 to the undefeated Tichenor Spartans in Newport on Saturday night, the historical season was a success..

The Spartans returned the opening kickoff for a TD which was the first the Wildcats had given up all season. A few seconds later Mike Dewald answered with his own return down to the Spartans 10 yd line. A score by the Wildcats knotted the score at 6.

It was all Spartans from that point on. The Spartan defense stifled the Cats explosive offensive attack and the Spartan offense was unstoppable due to a multipronged running attack. The Spartans took a commanding lead into the locker room.

Although events on the field were not going their way the Cats continued to play hard throughout the game. Fourth quarter TD's by Jordan Smith and Mike Dewald and two extra point kicks by Mike Dewald completed the scoring for the contest resulting in the final score.

Coach Hornbeck commented on the game, "We knew going in we had a big challenge with Tichenor. We had played them earlier in the year and watched them play on a number of occasions. They are an 8th grade dominated team with big and fast players at the skill positions. We start 11 seventh graders and were undersized at several defensive positions. While our players were in position to make some plays they were unable to bring down the Spartan runners. Tichenor is undefeated for a reason. I was pleased with our effort. While the final score did not reflect a win several of our players were individually given compliments by the opposing team for their hard play. All of our players got into the game giving them valuable playoff experience."

The 8th graders have now been called up by coach Brown for the remainder of the varsity season. They will be practicing with the varsity and attend the remaining games as part of the team. This will help them transition into the varsity program. There are seventeen 8th graders moving up. Some of the big contributors to the success of the season was the offensive line. While they did not get in the scoring column and the paper Chris Lovelace, Jerry Miller and Jacob Wagner were leaders on the line and will be moving up and making an impact in the future.

Coach Hornbeck continued, "The coaching staff of John Fields, Monte Smith, Ronnie Turner and Jim White did an outstanding job this year and the success of this season was not possible without their hard work. We will have an experienced team next year and we will have incoming 6th graders who will be able to contribute immediately."

Any 6th or 7th grader interested in participating in middle school football are encouraged to contact Mrs. Faye Thornton at Sharp Middle School.

team. The Sharp Wildcats football team became the first to qualify for the playoffs and post a winning record in the football programs history.

"For a school the size of PCHS, it is vital that we work out a plan that allows athletes to double or even triple up on sports where possible," Athletic Director Keith Smith pointed out. "HS sports is about providing opportunities for our athletes to participate and strive for success. Where we can, we have to juggle things to allow it work for them. Not always possible or for some even recommended but for those that can, we have to give an effort to make it work."

"While doing it in one season is unbelievably difficult, I would like to see more of our athletes playing in fall, winter and spring and helping our teams compete for championships all year long."

KHSAA rules prevents middle schoolers from playing contact sports with upper classman. The Sharp students playing soccer/football/cheerleaders were ineligible to play varsity soccer or football.

Congratulations Ladycats volleyball team on winning the 38th District Tournament!

Reds suffer historic collapse, fall to Giants in NLDS

By: Sam McClanahan, Reporter
The magical run that was the 2012 season came to a heartbreaking and historically unfavorable end for the Cincinnati Reds last Thursday when they were eliminated by the San Francisco Giants in a decisive Game 5 on the National League Divisional Series.

In victory, the Giants accomplished something never before done in major league history; rallying from a two games to none deficit to win three consecutive road games and move on to the NLCS.

In defeat, the Reds managed to do something they had not done all season, drop three straight games at Great American Ballpark.

"You get tired of the disappointments, but then you get over it," said manager Dusty

Baker, whose future in the Queen City now becomes one of many questions that will need to be answered before the team meets again for spring training next February.

Starting pitchers Mat Latos and Matt Cain kept things scoreless through four innings when the Giants were able to erupt for six runs in the fifth, culminated by a grand slam home run off the bat of catcher and NL MVP candidate Buster Posey. The Reds answered with two runs in the bottom of the inning when second baseman Brandon Phillips doubled in Ryan Hanigan and Drew Stubbs. Leftfielder Ryan Ludwick's solo shot in the sixth cut the lead in half, but the rally was cut short when Hanigan struck out and Jay Bruce was thrown out as he attempted to steal third base in a double play that ended the inning. After the Reds stranded baserunners in the seventh and eighth, it all came down to the bottom of the ninth, unfortunately; the offense was able to produce just one run when Ludwick singled in shortstop Zack Cozart to make it a 6-4 game. After rightfielder Jay Bruce flied out to conclude a hard-fought at bat against closer Sergio Romo, veteran third baseman Scott Rolen struck out to record the final out of the afternoon.

With the loss, Cincinnati's run of postseason despair extends to 17 years. The Reds last advanced past the NLDS in 1995, when they swept the Los Angeles Dodgers before falling to the Atlanta Braves in the NLCS. In 1999, the club squared off against the New York Mets in a one-game playoff with the winner moving on to the NLDS, but were shutout at Cinergy Field 5-0 behind a two-hit shutout performance by Mets starter Al Leiter. Following an 11-year absence, the Reds clinched the NL Central championship in 2010, but were swept out of the playoffs by the NL East champion Philadelphia Phillies.

Moving forward, Reds' fans can take solace in a young core of key players that will likely keep the club in contention for many seasons to come.

With Joey Votto, Brandon Phillips, Jay Bruce, Johnny Cueto, Mat Latos and Aroldis Chapman in the fold, the Reds' long-term future appears to be bright.

In the short-term, questions concerning the teams lineup, most notably; leadoff hitter will likely be addressed by General Manager Walt Jocketty. Other looming issues will be the fate of off-injured third baseman Scott Rolen, speedy, yet strikeout-prone centerfielder Drew Stubbs, and young and upcoming pitchers Homer Bailey and Mike Leake. Additionally, the club will have to decide if it wants to retain Dusty Baker as manager and figure out if Aroldis Chapman will most benefit the team as a starting pitcher, or stay put in the bullpen where he recorded 38 saves.

If a few tweaks can be made to the roster, along with the team's core remaining healthy while producing at its usual clip, there's no reason to think the Reds won't be in the mix for a playoff spot in 2013 and beyond while taking more steps forward in competing for a world championship.

Cats Cup brings youth soccer to end

While soccer players around the globe tune in by the millions to watch the World Cup, Falmouth was riveted to the youth soccer fields the past weekend for the CATS Cup. A two-day, single elimination tournament that brought the season to a close for over 130 Pendleton County soccer players.

The league was divided into three divisions, Upper, Middle, Lower, based on a combination of age and ability.

The Lower Division was won by Lisa Cooper's Greys in a well-played 4-2 victory over Jennifer Redden's Blues.

The Middle Division was full of tense, excitement throughout the day. Kevin Barnard's Reds and James Beebe's Greys finished tied after regulation and needed two 5-minute Sudden Death periods before a tie-breaking goal was made by the Reds.

They faced off against Julie Wood's Purples and again after regulation the game was tied. Two more 5-minute Sudden Death periods were needed before the Golden Goal was made by the Purples for the Championship Victory, 2-1.

The Upper Division was not much different. Stacey Tackett's Blues played hard and tough and after regulation they had tied Megan Jones' Reds at 1. For the 7th time in the day, a Sudden Death period ensued. The Reds found the back of the net first and won the Upper Division Championship.

Madison Logan - two-sport athlete in one season

Playing two sports in a school year takes a commitment to balance, dedication and hard work.

Madison Logan along with several of her classmates plays two varsity sports in one season for PCHS. On Friday nights, you will see her on the sidelines for the football team cheering for the Cheer-Cats and during the week and Saturdays playing defense for Ladycat Soccer.

"Madison juggles two sports very well," CheerCats coach Kelley Carlisle commented. "The most amazing thing to me has been that she comes to practice prepared and knows what she has missed. She makes a huge effort to talk to another cheerleader to find out what she missed and will need to work on."

Madison has to just look down the roster to see the young girls that she is setting an example. Grace Beebe, Molly Burgemeir, Madison Sydnor and Lilie Heringer are all playing JV/Freshmen soccer while cheering for Sharp Middle School.

In addition to Madison, four Wildcat Soccer players perform kicking duties for the Wildcat

Madison Logan
Football team, Aven Harper, Clay Knight, Cody Hanser and Mackenzie Colvin, who was committed to kick for the Cats before a foot injury sidelined him.

"Aven and Clay have done an amazing job working their schedules to accommodate both." Wildcat soccer coach Lisa Feltner pointed out while discussing the time demands of playing two varsity sports.

Eighth grader Mike Dewald does his version of double duty, playing soccer for the JV and freshmen team while and plays for his Sharp Middle School Football instead of 20 victories and a district title was not a realistic goal.

Senior Brianna Crouch chalks it up to the chemistry this team has that has led to the turnaround.

“We have been playing together since the 7th grade and we work well together, knowing what each other is good at and going to do and not getting upset with each other.”

She continued pointing out that communication is their key. “When we talk and communicate we play real well. When we don’t communicate, we don’t.”

Coach Buck pointed out that this season was a team accomplishment. “Our supporting players, Patricia Harrison, Christine Philpott, Sam Rering, Josie Kells, and Morgan Antrobus, combined with them to make a District winning team. During our season, every player had their moment of contributing to this winning season.”

But the success was not limited to the players on the court as she gave credit to the fans and supporters, “The support from the younger team members, fans and parents helped motivate the team even more.”

That core group was on the floor for the majority of district play and followed Coach Buck’s game plan to perfection in unseating the 9-time district champ Harrison County in the first round.

Led by a powerful front line duo, the Cats constantly played the ball deep in the back row to the Fillies weaker defensive players. That kept it away from their power on the net and allowed the Cats to take them out of the game.

After winning the first game and losing a tight 23-25 2nd game, the Cats stayed to the game plan and took the last two games to advance to the championship game.

Against Harrison County, Brianna Crouch had 12 kills, 7 aces, 28 assists, 7 digs, Mackenzie Horn 7 kills, Sarah Schlueter 14 kills, Jennifer Owen 6 digs and Destiny Shackelford 7 kills, 6 digs.

In the championship game vs Deming, the Cats dominated the opening game 25-6 and then battled through a slower-played match to win the final two sets, 25-22, 25-16.

Senior Jen Owen said she was able to relax when the ball find the net on the final point, “The last two games we had to battle and we could take a breath and enjoy. Being friends off the court, winning made it even bigger.”

Mackenzie Horn’s serve proved to be a key difference in the last two games.

“Mackenzie has a strong, consistent serve that played a key part in defeating Deming. Her serves hang close to the net, which is not easily defended.” Coach Buck commented about her senior’s serve being a key point of the last two games.

“The second game she scored 8 straight points and the third game she scored 9 straight points.”

Brianna Crouch finished with 5 kills, 6 aces, 17 assists, 5 digs, Sarah Schlueter 7 kills, Mackenzie Horn 5 aces, Jennifer Owen 7 digs, and Destiny Shackelford 6 kills.

BLANKET CREEK
Bro. Joe is on a much needed vacation this week so Bro. Kevin Richardson from Sunrise Children's home was our guest speaker. He shared some stories about the poor, distraught and needy. Jesus comes to us in many forms. He could be that beggar on the street or the orphaned or mistreated neglected child. We should never be too busy to help the needy. We must let others see Jesus in us. Dr. Bill Smithwick president of Sunrise Children's Services was our guest speaker for the evening. He started out by presenting Blanket Creek with a certificate for all we have done for Sunrise. Besides all the blankets we have been making we have donated well over $12,000 to Sunrise in just two years. This is a very special mission to us and we would love to see other churches in our area get involved.

Announcements: Family fun night and harvest party with a chili cook-off and hayride will be on October 26.

Prayer list: Jack Ackman and the families of Frances Wiggins, Alberta Saylor, Emma Fern Wright, Cecil Webber and Jesse Watlington.

FALMOUTH BAPTIST
Greetings from the Falmouth Baptist Church. If you don't have a church home, we invite you to worship with us.

The choir sang a beautiful song titled "Communion hymn" and Bro. Cohen's message was about examining ourselves. He reminded us that James 1:22 tells us to not merely listen to the Word, but do as it says. In Hebrews 4 we are told that the Word of God is living and active and that nothing in creation is hidden from God's sight. Everything is uncovered and laid bare before Christ. God is looking at our hearts and we should examine our hearts as Christ does. We all need to be lovers of God more than lovers of self. At the close of service, we observed the holy ordinance of communion. Thank you to the young and young at heart who helped our youth clean tables at the Wool Festival.

FALMOUTH CHRISTIAN
The month of October has certainly been a busy one so far. Our "Sundae Shoppe" at the Wool Festival was a big success and a huge crowd was in attendance every day. Everyone had a great time.

By the time this article reaches the paper we will have already had our community hymn sing on Saturday night, October 13. We will give details in next week's paper.

Our Galilean mission trip on Friday, October 12, will have already been over so there will be update of that event in next week's paper as well.

Homer Burton from the Chatham Christian Church in Bracken County brought our special music this week. He brought us a little Bluegrass Gospel which was just beautiful.

Brother Rick's message came from 1 Thessalonians 5:12-24 and addressed "Giving Thanks."

Take time this week and pray for those with so many special needs. It doesn't have to be someone you know. God sees no stranger and neither should we. He loves everyone and so should we. We must always follow His teachings. Have a blessed week.

FALMOUTH METHODIST
Sometimes the sorrows of life can seem pretty overwhelming. Not long ago, a friend told me he'd spent a painful week hearing about the troubled lives of people he knew. It seemed that wherever he went, he saw marriages in trouble; parents with rebellious children; people with bodies ravaged by disease and drugs, and lives filled with loneliness and despair.

Confronted with so much sorrow it's easy to lose your perspective. We sometimes forget that we have a great healer and wonderful counselor in Jesus Christ.

Belief in Jesus can make the difference between hope and despair. The Gospel of Luke tells us that it was he that preached the good news to the poor, proclaimed release for the captives, and set the downtrodden free.

When the pains of life seem overwhelming, hold on to your faith. When you accept Jesus into your heart, you release your burdens onto him.

HARVEST
Many thanks to all who visited our booth at the Wool Festival and bought rib eyes and burgers. It was so good to see old friends and to make new ones. Also many thanks go out to the Wool Festival committee for a job well done. We are now looking forward to Wool Fest 2013.

The youth will enjoy a day of "paintball" at the Fields family farm in Brooksville. This activity is for ages 13 and up with a cost of $20 per person.

Prayer concerns: Michelle Caldwell, baby Logan Davidson, Rosella Spencer, Connie Jenkins, Karen Bird, Andrew Owens and Larry Compton.

We invite you to be our guest Sundays: Bible study at 9:30 a.m., worship at 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. and prayer service at 6 p.m. on Wednesday nights at 111 E. Shelby Street.

Enjoy the beauty of God's earth as the leaves are turning their magnificent colors.

MORGAN CHRISTIAN
Greetings from the new minister at Morgan Christian Church! My name is Pastor Charla Gilbert and I am full of joy being called to serve here. Getting to know the people of this community and the beautiful land has truly been a blessing to me and my family.

As disciples of Christ, we at Morgan share communion every Sunday to celebrate with thanksgiving the saving acts and presence of Christ. The Lord's Table renews us in Christian unity and provides a place of belonging. In a world that is more and more connected through technology and TV, our connections face-to-face and person-to-person seem harder to come by. For those in need of meaning, direction and inspiration, God's church can provide some Good News for you.

Our coffee fellowship, singing, and prayer begin around 9:15 a.m. Sunday school classes begin at 10 a.m. and we come together for worship at 11 a.m.

MT. GILEAD
The year is near an end for regular service at the old Mt. Gilead Church. The last service of the year will be on Sunday, October 21. However the old white church on the hill will stand ready for those who need a special need to visit.

To make that day special, we will have bean-soup and corn bread for refreshments. Who said you need ice-cream for special occasions?

That is not all, we will have the new roof completed. A good neighbor, Mr. Mike Stough, owner of Stough Best Case Farm, is financing the needed project.

Over the years it has been so wonderful that when a need is found someone comes forward. The new furnace and windows are good examples.

Be sure to mark October 21, on your calendar, and make plans to attend the service at 2:30 p.m. There will be music, singing, praying, preaching and bean soup. This service will assist both your spiritual and food hunger.

Call Bob Jones at 654-2041 for more information.

MT. MORIAH
Pastor Darrell Breedon. Church time begins at 10 a.m. with Sunday school, and 11 a.m. morning worship, children's church at 11 a.m. also. We are located at the intersection of HWY 17 N. and 27 N.

Our elder board are Mary

Doan, Myron Doan, David Doan, Foster Thornberry, Jo Craig, Carol Caldwell, Ron Lambert, Bobby Ammerman, Alvin Adams and Omer Bentle.

NEW ZION
If you are looking for a place to worship, join us on Sundays. Sunday School starts at 10 a.m., morning worship starts at 11 a.m. and evening worship starts at 6:30 p.m.

Upcoming opportunities: There will be a harvest party and hayride at 1 p.m., October 21; there will be a business meeting at 12:30 p.m., October 28; and the CrossFire Crew will be performing at Falmouth Baptist for the Associational Youth Rally at 6 p.m. on November 3.

"And he sat down, and called the twelve, and saith unto them, if any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all, and servant of all." Mark 9:35

Please remember in prayer Cliff Peters, Penny Peters, Logan, Derek and Amy Davidson, Mark Edwards, Connie Jenkins, Marcella Thorton, Matt Cornett, Mike Fugate, Evelyn Vermillion, Jimmy Dale Cummins and the Kinney, Moneyhon and Withers families. Also remember to pray for all of our men and women in uniform, our country and its leaders.

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN
The theme of Bro. Jim's message was that we should prioritize our lives by God's design. Be focused on what is right.

Remember Revival at Chatham Christian, October 14-19, with Bruce Heller (always a blessing!)

"Walk Through Bethlehem" organizational meeting/chili supper is at 6:30 p.m., October 21.

WTB dates are November 24, 25, and December 1, 2.

"Trunk or Treat" is October 27, 6-8 p.m.

Youth Sunday is coming October 28.

We are filling shoeboxes for Operation Christmas Child. Just bring to church.

Prayer concerns include Keith Petrequin (of Majestic Sounds Quartet, needs kidney transplant, Bev Bass (knee surgery), Geneva Morris, Mrs. Bob Melton, Mary Doan, Rick Cookendorfer, Margaret McCann, Greg McElfresh, Jordan and Marsha Massey (expecting twins), Judy and Rufus Bex, Juanita King, Michelle Caldwell (Hospice at home), Charles Lee Ramsey, shut-ins, armed forces and those with cancer concerns.

TURNER RIDGE
We gathered for Sunday school at 10 a.m., Sunday, October 7, then went into worship service singing hymns, greeting one another and praying for the sick, lost and loved ones.

Uncle Dale led the children's message, thank you, and explained to them that later in the service we would have the Lord's Supper and we should be thankful Jesus died on the cross for us. Morgan Sorrell read scripture from Mark 14.

Bro. Dale's message, "An expression of thanksgiving," with scripture from Luke 22:17-19 led us into a time of reflection and thankfulness that with faith we could try and grasp God's plan. That before He created man, He had planned to sacrifice His only Son. Because of what happened on the cross, we have opportunity for eternal life. We then observed the ordinance of the Lord's Supper.

"And He took the cup, and gave thanks..." Luke 22:17 "And He took bread, and gave thanks... this do in remembrance of me." Luke 22:19

Please let the Lord lead you this season and do unto others as you would have them do unto you. The mission groups are in full swing and we would be blessed to have you and your children involved at Turner Ridge.

Sunday services begin at 10 and 11 a.m., 6:30 and 7:15 p.m. and Wednesday night at 7 p.m.

Short Creek Baptist having revival

Revival at Short Creek Baptist Church will begin at 6 p.m., Sunday, October 28, 2012. It will continue at 7 p.m., Monday, October 29 through Wednesday, October 31. Richard Collins will be our guest speaker and special music.

Short Creek Baptist Church is located at 6212 HWY 22 W., Falmouth.

The "Nones" May Have It Right

In an episode of one of my favorite British comedies, "Blackadder," a notoriously rude yet clever sitcom starring Rowan Atkinson as Blackadder and Tony Robinson as his assistant (or "dogsbody") Baldrick, Baldrick explains to his boss Blackadder that his father was once a nun.

"No he wasn't," Blackadder responds.

"Yes, he was," said Baldrick, "I know because every time he was called before the judge and asked to state his occupation, he told him, 'none.'"

There are a lot more "nones," or religiously unaffiliated, today than ever before, at least according to recent research from the Pew Forum on Religion and Public Life. Their number has risen to almost 20% of the U.S. population, an increase of 15% in the last five years. During the same period, the percentage of Protestant Christians has dropped from 60% of the U.S. population in the 1990s to 48% today. For the first time, Protestants now make up a minority of the U.S. population.

According to an article on the Pew study by Peter Smith, a staff writer for the Louisville Courier-Journal, the decline of Protestants is among both evangelicals and old-line mainline Protestants, and is especially true among White, non-Hispanic Protestants. You will likely be hearing a lot of alarm bells going off in Protestant churches around the country as Protestants digest this information, and as they continue to nurse the wounds of the last half century's disestablishment of our brand of Christianity.

However, buried in this report, I found something really encouraging and important for us to hear, if we have ears to hear. The "nones" (who are often younger, incidentally) are not turned off to God. In fact — and I know this isn't news to anyone — the "nones" describe themselves as spiritual, though not religious. They believe in God. They often pray. They engage in a variety of spiritual practices, such as yoga. Their gripe with the church concerns what they identify as its more institutional aspects. They believe the church is preoccupied with its own rules, procedures, and privileges, its political clout, money, prestige and power. But they really like the church's efforts to feed the hungry, to care for the vulnerable in the world, and to strengthen society.

You may be able to guess where I'm going.

The concerns the "nones" have about Protestantism are concerns many Protestant Christians share. After all, we are followers of Jesus of Nazareth, first and foremost, and representatives of some denominational identity or religious interests, second (at most).

It may be that God is using the "nones" among us to remind us of our purpose as people of faith. In fact, I think the "nones" are right about a lot.

Their disenchantment with us sounds a lot like the words Dietrich Bonhoeffer wrote from a Nazi prison over fifty years ago as he surveyed the future of the church. Bonhoeffer wrote: "The church is the church only when it exists for others.... The church must share in the secular problems of ordinary human life, not dominating, but helping and serving. It must tell [people] of every calling what it means to live in Christ, to exist for others. In particular, our own church will have to take the field against the vices of hubris, power-worship, envy, and humbug, as the roots of all evil. It will have to speak of moderation, purity, trust, loyalty, constancy, patience, discipline, humility, contentment, and modesty." (Bonhoeffer, Letters and Papers from Prison, New York: 1971, 382-383)

Maybe the "nones" are just asking Protestants to "show up" again with the message and life of our founder, Jesus of Nazareth. Maybe they are asking us to remember who we are. Maybe they are just asking us to be less preoccupied with our institutional survival, the loss of our dominance in the culture, and the erosion of our influence among those in power. It wouldn't be the first time God has chosen that which is "not" to lay low things that are (1 Corinthians 1: 18-31).

Finally it seems we Protestants are getting schooled by "nones." (Sorry, I couldn't resist that one.)

Purpose in life can prevent dementia

You already know that staying physically and mentally active may help stave off dementia, but researchers have found yet another protective trick—having a purpose in life.

Now, I don't mean having a goal that has a definite end point, such as telling yourself that you'll run a marathon or write a novel.

For brain protection, having a purpose in life is a little bit different. What are some examples of "purposes," and how can you figure out what yours is if you don't already have one?

Warding off brain fog

I'm happy to say that figuring out your life's purpose is not that hard to do. More on that in a minute, but first, let me show you what the study found.

Researchers analyzed 246 senior citizens who received annual cognitive testing for about 10 years. Each was asked questions to determine whether he or she had a strong purpose in life. When participants died, they underwent brain autopsies.

What the researchers found was that in participants who had a lot of plaques and tangles in their brains—abnormal structures in and around the brain's nerve cells that are hallmarks of Alzheimer's disease—the rate of cognitive decline had been about 30% slower for people who had a strong purpose in life compared with those who had had a weaker purpose or no purpose at all.

Here's what I hope these findings mean: The stronger your purpose in life, the less likely you'll suffer cognitive decline as you age, even if your brain is affected by Alzheimer's signs. I hope that's true because it means that you can preserve your cognitive ability by making sure that you have a purpose.

Of course, it could be the other way around—it could be that some people have a biological problem that makes them less able to cope with brain plaques and tangles and, also, less able to feel that their lives have purpose.

Go for it anyway

When I called lead study author Patricia A. Boyle, PhD, a neuropsychologist in the Alzheimer's Disease

Center at Rush University Medical Center in Chicago, she acknowledged that her study doesn't prove whether purposefulness helps our brains work better or is simply a side effect of a brain that is already working better. Maybe research will determine that one day. But on the other hand, since having a sense of purpose seems to make people happier, she said, why not cultivate one?

Based on her work with the study subjects, Dr. Boyle defines a life purpose as "the sense that one's life has meaning and direction—that one is intentional and motivated to engage in activities that one finds important and fulfilling." In other words, it's what gets you out of bed each day and makes you feel that life is worth living.

A purpose doesn't have to be ambitious or complicated. In fact, many purposes are simple, said Dr. Boyle. It just can't have a definite end point—it has to last throughout your life. For example, some purposes include spending time every day with loved ones... helping other people (for example through long-term volunteer work)... learning something new every day... or passing down a certain set of knowledge or skills to a younger generation. If you love running marathons or writing novels, as I mentioned earlier, make sure that your goal is to continue pursuing those goals through life—and not just run one marathon or write one novel.

It's not so much what your purpose is, Dr. Boyle said—what's critical is how it makes you feel. If it stirs you up inside and makes you feel passionate, energetic and excited, then you've found it!

Here's a great example: A colleague of mine, Sarah Hiner, noticed a long time ago that the word "shine" appears in her e-mail address because her address uses her first initial and last name. You might call it a random coincidence, but she considers it a sign—and her purpose in life. What inspires her every day is the opportunity to help those around her "shine," so she makes it her mission to spread positivity and bring out the best in others.

Scenes from Kentucky Wool Festival

Here is an interesting booth. It's Greg's Architectural Antiques and Garden. They have been coming to the festival for several years. They have a large inventory of garden items, such as a pig with a curly Q tail, roosters, frogs, and lots of others to hold a flower pot or just be a yard decoration and much more.

There is always plenty of good music to listen to each year. There are two stages that play continuous music of bluegrass, country, or Gospel all three days. The children can enjoy the music as the adults. Many of the children get out on the concrete pad and dance to the music. This is quite a show itself. There are bleachers to sit a spell or you can find an empty hay bale to sit on.

Besides the good food, music, and craft booths, the festival is always a good place to meet up with old friends and classmates. Above are Adam and Alison Crozier's twins. Little Amelia has her eyes wide open while her brother, Easton is trying to get in a few zzzzzzzzzzz.

Colson's Petting Zoo is always educational to visitors about farm animals and others. They bring many different animals to the festival each year. Visitors can feed the animals and pet some of them. Above a visitor pets the head of a goat that is climbing up to see if she possibly has some feed for him.

There are many things that children can do at the festival. Above Ryan Taylor purchased himself a marshmallow shooter. He seems to be having a good time with his.

Here, can you guess what kind of poultry this little white thing is? Visitors stopped to look at her as she stood motionless on a table letting visitors love and pet her. She is a Silky, a chicken breed in China. She was one of the many animals at Colson's Petting Zoo.

There are over 30 different food booths that come to the festival each year. One of the meat choice is that of the giant turkey legs that are for sale. Above Rick Kerns of Union, Ky. had one of those legs. This was his first year attending the festival.

One of the booths at the Kentucky Wool Festival that is a popular place for the kids to go is the petting zoo that is operated by Running Creek Farm of Pendleton County. The little girl above was trying to feed one of the goats.

There are many favorite foods available to visitors each year. One of the popular items is the homemade chicken and dumplings booth operated by The Church of God. The lines are usually long but the dumplings are so good. These ladies above are kept busy dipping up the chicken and dumplings.
